

Gabrielle

New girlfriend, driving down to the beach
To spend the weekend together
Gasoline and fast food, along the Garden State
We were wandering through the service plaza
Wandering through the service plaza
Then our eyes met and we smiled

Gabrielle, Gabrielle
At the Cadillac Motel
Gabrielle, Gabrielle
I remember you so well
By the light of the TV set we made love, it was the easiest kind
A soft bed, a pillow beneath your head
And we could talk the whole time
We could talk the whole time

That weekend, we barely made it out of the room
To take a walk on the sand, souvenirs in a gift shop
Dinner with friends from a summer she waitressed
But then we couldn't wait to get back
Yeah we couldn't wait to get back
Opening the door to the room

Gabrielle, Gabrielle
At the Cadillac Motel
Gabrielle, Gabrielle
I remember you so well
By the light of the TV set, we were feeling the warmth when we kissed
And lying there later in the afterglow, thinking that it never gets better than this Yeah, it never gets better than this